

JAPAN REVEALS PLAN TO SEIZE NORTH CHINA

Americans Preparing to Leave, Foresee Property Ruined

Nanking, China, Aug. 6.—(Friday) —(AP)—Official foreign circles in the central Chinese capital heard today the Japanese army had informed diplomats at Tientsin that Sino-Japanese hostilities would be pushed to the banks of the Yellow river.

(North of the Yellow river lies the 5-province territory in which Japan desires a dominant economic influence: Hipeh, Chahar, Shansi, most of Suiyuan, and the northern third of Shantung. Most of the Chinese Central government's troops presumably are still south of the river. Most of the fighting so far has been in Hipeh.)

AMERICANS LEAVE

Washington, Aug. 5.—(AP)—John M. Allison, American consul at Tsinan, China, has reported to the state department that with the exception of 20 Catholic Sisters nearly all American women and children have now left for Tsinan.

The consul gave no names, but the state department's register of American registered at Tsinan lists a number of Catholic Sisters there.

One group of 14, attached to Saint Joseph's hospital, are listed with the American address of Saint John's Hospital, Springfield, Ill. They are Franziska Baron, Anna Beckmann, Anastasia Buhl, Emma Beckmann, Maria Griese, Anna Luckemeier, Agnes McLaughlin, Barbara Mehl, Gertrude Pieper, Franziska Puzik, Elizabeth Schomaker, Rose Mathilda Seltsen, Marie Stepanek, and Sophia Worman.

AMERICANS GIVE AID

Tungchow, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Two Americans, Harry S. Martin, of Boston, and James A. Hunter, of Peoria, Ill., worked unceasingly today to aid Chinese victims in this devastated city which was the scene of one of the bitterest fights of the undeclared war between Japan and China.

Just a week ago the Chinese gendarmes of this capital of the East Hopei autonomous regime revolted against the Japanese who had armed them as militarized police of the Japanese-inspired government. The Japanese garrison was surrounded and hundreds were slain in the attack. Others were stood up in front of a firing squad and shot.

While Japanese troops rushed to quell the uprising, warplanes from Tientsin blasted the city in repeated punitive bombardments. Today, a week after the battle, Tungchow

"Hell of a Fix"

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—County Clerk W. H. Sawyer got this letter from a woman whose name he withheld:

"Will you please let me know whether or not I am divorced, for if I am not divorced I am in a hell of a fix. I have just got married again."

Sawyer, after checking the records, eased the lady's mind.

Light Burns Night and Day in 'Holy Cell' in St. Louis Station

St. Louis, Aug. 5.—(AP)—A light burns day and night, illuminating a figure of the Crucified Christ, in a vacant cell—the "holy cell"—at St. Louis police headquarters.

The cell has been kept empty and the light burning for five years, since an unknown prisoner whined away weary hours sketching on the buff steel wall.

With either pencil or crayon, he drew a figure of Christ on the wall, complete except for the right

'Schorr Tough

An Associated Press dispatch from Wausau, Wis., tells the following story about Mr. and Mrs. George Schorr, formerly of Dixon, who have many friends here:

Wausau, Wis.—(AP)—It's an even bet that Mr. and Mrs. George Schorr had soup for luncheon today and will have more for dinner tonight. And all because a thief, one of the meanest in local police annals, stole their false teeth.

When Schorr and his wife went to sleep last night they left their store teeth, $200 worth, resting side by side in tumblers on a bathroom shelf. This morning they were gone.

"If that it thomeone's idea of a joke, I mith the poimth," said George.

Police said they have some snappy clues.

PLUGS FOR TAX LEAKS PROPOSED BY CONGREEMEN

Joint Tax Committee Submits Recommendations Today

Washington, Aug. 5.—(AP)—A senate-house tax committee recommended today drastic increases in domestic personal holding company taxes as one means of preventing tax avoidance.

The committee, proposing for enactment at this session a $100,000,000 eight-point program of legislation to plug income tax leaks, also recommended an innovation in the taxation of foreign personal holding companies.

It suggested that undistributed net income of such companies should be figured in the gross income of the American owners of the companies just as if it actually had been distributed to them.

Treasury officials, who co-operated with the joint committee in making an investigation which brought in the names of many prominent citizens, estimated roughly that enactment of the committee's recommendations would mean an increase of $100,000,000 in federal revenues.

For Stiffer Treatment

In addition to the domestic and foreign personal holding company proposals the committee recommended stiffer tax treatment for these methods used by wealthy persons to reduce their taxes: incorporated yachts and country estates, incorporation of personal talents (such as acting), artificial reductions for interest and business expense, multi-trusts, non-resident aliens, and artificial deductions for losses from sales or exchanges of property.

The committee proposed to lift the surtaxes on domestic personal holding corporations to 65 per cent on the undistributed net income not in excess of $20,000 and 75 per cent on the amount above $20,000.

The present rates are 8 to 48 per cent.

"No low minimum rate can be provided," the report said, "without enabling wealthy individuals to escape substantial taxes through the formation of multiple

More Violators of Traffic Laws Called Before Justice

Tyler last Friday evening. William Thayer, Robert Rinehart and Phil Welch failed to observe the stop sign at the corner of College avenue and Third street last evening and when they faced Justice J. O. Shaulis were assessed fines of $3 and costs each. Tryon Rosbrook and Woodrow Wurtzberger were arrested on speeding charges and their hearings were continued until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Logan Bowser of this city, arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, was fined $10 and costs by Justice Shaulis when arraigned in police court last evening.

KIDNAPED BOY'S FUTURE IS UP TO THE COURTS

Judge Must Untangle Unusual Situation Surrounding Boy

Chicago, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Otto and Martha Horst turned to the courts today, hoping to win permanent custody of the dark-haired boy they cherished as their own since infancy and who was taken from them Tuesday in what police first believed to be a kidnapping.

The 30-month-old boy, Donald, was being cared for at St. Vincent's orphanage pending settlement of the dispute between the Horsts and the young man and woman who told authorities Donald was their son and admitted taking him forcibly from Mrs. Horst.

Donald was surrendered to Assistant State's Attorney W. E. Crowley yesterday by the educators, John Regan and Lydia Nelson, who said they had entrusted the boy to the Horsts at birth because of lack of money. Crowley said the Horsts admitted this was true.

The prosecutor said it was unlikely any charges would be filed against anyone but there was a possibility Fred Ewert, accused of driving the car in which Donald was taken from the Horst home, might be questioned if found. Police said Ewert, missing since the time of the snatching, had a criminal record.

Mother Not Married

Crowley said Miss Nelson, 23, told him she and Ewert had never married because she had not been divorced from her first husband.

She said that although she tried for more than two years to find the baby, it was only 10 days ago that she learned the Horsts had him.

"John and I knew it would be hopeless to ask the Horsts to give up the baby. So we decided just to take him. We didn't think Mrs. Horst would make a fuss, knowing the circumstances of the child's birth."

The Regans denied asking $5,000 ransom.

Crowley said his investigation revealed Donald was born to Miss Nelson Jan. 6, 1935, and that the mother agreed to let the physician, Dr. John A. Rose, place the infant with a "wealthy man." Believing the adoption only temporary, the Regans signed no papers.

The prosecutor said a birth certificate show the Horsts as the parents had been filed.

Howard Crews, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crews, 722 East Morgan street, is in training at the U. S. Naval station at Pensacola, Fla. Howard, a graduate of the class of 1932 of the Dixon high school, attended the University of Illinois, where he became interested in aviation. He entered the service at the Glenview field at the Great Lakes naval training station, north of Chicago, where he successfully completed a 30-day period of training and was then transferred to the Pensacola naval station in Florida. He is now entered in a group of aviation students where he will be required to complete an 11 months' course of instruction before being assigned to actual service in the navy. At the Pensacola station he has attained the title of aviation cadet.

Franklin Grocery Store Ransacked

The L. A. Troitnow grocery store at Franklin Grove was entered at an early hour this morning and ransacked. Entrance was gained through a window in the rear of the store in which the glass was shattered. The thieves selected five boxes of cigars, 15 cartons of cigarettes, a box of gum and a metal box containing assorted pipes, which they carried away with them. The robbery was discovered this morning when the store was opened and Sheriff Adair was notified and went to Franklin Grove to conduct an investigation.

PAPA DIONNE'S DANDER MOUNTS; HE LETS LOOSE

Is Mad All Over, All Over Emilie's Sore Throat and Doc

Callander, Ont., Aug. 5.—(Canadian Press)—Papa Oliva Dionne got his dander up today about quintuplet Emilie's sore throat.

He said he read Dr. Allan Roy Dufoe's statement that Emilie caught her cold from an "outside source" and made up his mind that Dr. Dufoe "was blaming us because Emilie got sick."

Besides, the quintuplet father complained, "we didn't even know she had it until some of those tourists told us Monday."

Dr. Dufoe answered that he didn't mean it that way. Although he said he was certain the infection came from "someone outside" the nursery, he added that "I certainly didn't say one of the Dionne family."

Papa Dionne, who lives with his wife and six other children just across the road from the nursery, explained that he and Mrs. Dionne hadn't visited the quintuplets for more than a week before Emilie caught cold. Furthermore, he said, none of his family had been sick.

Also, Dionne said, he found out once that Yvonne had mumps and he wasn't told about it.

"That isn't true," Dr. Dufoe replied.

Unaware of the squabble, Emilie was able to sit on the veranda today. Dr. Dufoe said her temperature was back to normal and that she was getting along well.

SPANISH WAR WILL CONTINUE TO BITTER END

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spanish government forces, rallying to defend the Madrid-Valencia "life line" road, took defensive positions north of a highway to Cuenca today and announced they had won a skirmish from insurgent Moorish forces.

A government communique said hand-to-hand fighting, 10 miles southwest of Teruel, base of the insurgent Aragon drive, ended with the bodies of turbaned Moors strewn over the battlefield.

In northern Spain insurgents reported gains in a decisive defeat of their enemy near Cuero.

The insurgent gunboat Dato was reported to have sunk a small trawler of unidentified nationality as it attempted to run the blockade of government-held Santander on the Bay of Biscay.

Evacuation of Santander, reduced to serious straits by crowding and lack of food, reported under consideration.

Valencia government officials, reporting efforts made to preserve Spain's art treasures, said two chests of jewelry, securities and art objects, believed lost in transfer at Barcelona, had been recovered.

The "hand-of-Spain" committee of nations was suddenly called together in London by its chairman, Lord Plymouth. Hope that the Soviet Union would agree to beligerent rights for insurgents in exchange for simultaneous withdrawal of volunteers were dim, however.

The war will continue to "the bitter end," Julio Alvarez del Vayo, former Spanish minister, said at Valencia. Mediation is "impossible," he countered.

Moline Man Invents Machine to Pick Only Ripe Bolls of Cotton

Washington, Aug. 5.—(AP)—A light cast by a green boll is absorbed and the machine does not respond.

But when the boll is white, the light is reflected and the eye signals an electric hand to reach out.

The invention makes use of a photo-electric cell, or electric eye, to tell what's ripe and what's green, like human cotton pickers do.

The eye pays no attention to green bolls, the inventor told the patent office. By an adjustment

THOS. J. LYONS FOUND DEAD IN ST. LOUIS HOME

Former Superintendent of Shoe Plant Here Asphyxiated

Word received in Dixon today informed many friends of Thomas J. Lyons, former superintendent of the Brown Shoe company's plant in this city and for many years connected with the firm, of his death at his home, 1426 Waldron avenue, University City, a suburb of St. Louis last Sunday evening.

His daughters, Misses Dorothy, Ruth and Geraldine returned home Sunday night from a trip to Springfield, Ill., and found his body lying on the floor of the kitchen, while he was on the gas range were reported to have been open, the daughters believed that his death was accidental, the report stated.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday morning at 8:30 at the Bauman Bros. funeral home in St. Louis and at 9 o'clock at St. Catherine's Catholic church, with interment in Calvary cemetery at St. Louis.

RANGER VICTOR IN FOURTH AND DECIDING RACE

Defeats Challenger for America Cup Four Straight

Aboard Coast Guard Cutter Argo, off Newport, R. I., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Gaining her lead on a record 10-mile windward leg and holding it safe over the rest of the 30-mile triangular course, Harold S. Vanderbilt's sleek, snub-nosed Ranger today led T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavor II, the British challenger, across the finish line by approximately a half mile to score her fourth and deciding victory in defense of the America's Cup.

Thus Vanderbilt, who piloted Enterprise to victory over the late Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V in 1930 and skipped Rainbow in her triumph over Sopwith's first challenger, Endeavor I, in 1934, became the first amateur yachtsman to defend the international yachting trophy successfully three times.

Bettered Record

Ranger today finished official at 1:47:49 P. M., C. S. T., with an elapsed time of 3 hours, 7 minutes, 49 seconds that bettered the previous record for a 30-mile triangular course. That was set at 3 hours, 9 minutes, 1 second by Endeavor I in her second victory over Rainbow on September 18, 1934.

Endeavor crossed the line at 1:51:26 P. M., C. S. T., trailing by three minutes and 37 seconds, closest she has finished to the white-hulled defender in any of the four races.

Had Bad Start

Sopwith, seeking to prevent Vanderbilt from scoring a fourth straight victory, got off to a bad start when he sent his blue-hulled Endeavor II over the starting line ahead of the signal. He was recalled and forced to start again.

This gave Vanderbilt, who needed only today's race to complete his successful trophy defense, an extensive initial advantage. His Ranger was well on her way before Endeavor could start again.

The Challenger lost about eight lengths. It was the first time in cup history that a contender was recalled for "beating the gun."

Sopwith came about 200 degrees the line on a minute 15 seconds after the defender. He then went over the port track to begin the 10-mile beat against a south-westerly wind that inaugurated the 30-mile race over a triangular course, and Vanderbilt, who had started on a starboard tack, immediately came about and covered him.

DEM. NATIONAL COMMITTEE DENOUNCED TODAY

Washington, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) denounced the Democratic National Committee today for soliciting campaign contributions from Robert R. Young, New York railway magnate, shortly before he was summoned before the senate railroad investigating committee.

Wheeler, chairman of the investigating committee, said the solicitation was a "deplorable practice," and added:

"It might give the impression that people had to give money in order to get proper treatment, or that they might get some kind of favors."

Young testified yesterday that he bought $15,000 worth of Democratic convention books early this spring, but that the solicitors had "positively never discussed" his dealings with federal agencies.

The Interstate Commerce Commission authorized John Carson, consumers' council of the National Bituminous Coal Commission today to intervene in the reorganization proceedings of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Company.

Carson said 40 percent of the road's railway operating revenues accrued from the transportation of bituminous coal. He also opposed continued control of the road by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway company.

Doctors Wait for Woman's Death So They Can Operate

Philadelphia, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Physicians at the Philadelphia General Hospital stood by today waiting for Mrs. Mary Boccassini to die so they may deliver an expected baby.

Mrs. Boccassini, 27, is suffering from tuberculosis meningitis for which there is no cure.

The doctors told the husband, Dominick, of the situation and that they would perform an operation as soon as death came to the mother, to save the child. They hoped the baby would arrive before the mother passed away.

The husband objected, telling the doctors that if the wife must die let the baby go with her.

Judge Harry E. Kaldner decided that when the time comes the operation can be performed.

Leelanau

Where Members of NEA Spent Day During Four-Day Tour

Leelanau county, through which members of the National Editorial Association were conducted last Friday, July 23, in 70 automobiles furnished by Traverse City business men, is one of America's scenic spots. Its entire shoreline, which forms the "little finger" of Michigan, as well as its interior is rich in beauty and historic background.

The Leelanau county Board of Supervisors was host at breakfast for the entire tour, an excellent breakfast being served at Omena Inn, Omena; Hotel Northern, Northport; Cedar Lodge, Northport Point; Raff Mackinaw Fishing Camp, Northport and Dunn's Farm, Glen Lake.

Suttons Bay, active commercial center of the county, is a bustling community located on the shore of Grand Traverse bay. Just north is Peshawabtown, last exclusive colony of the Ottawa and Chipewewa Indians, with its church, Indian homes and Indian burial ground.

Omena is situated on a lovely indentation of Grand Traverse bay and is one of the fast growing but oldest resort communities in the Grand Traverse region. This year Villa Marquette, retreat for 100 Jesuit student priests, was opened here.

Northport was the first important port on Grand Traverse bay. It was here that wood burning steamers ran for shelter and also to refuel. Northport Point is the swankiest of the Grand Traverse resort colonies. From Northport Point dozens of fishing expeditions for Macinaw trout are launched daily.

Leland, most picturesque fishing town along the Great Lakes, is home of true marine romance. From here the fishing fleet makes lake history year after year with hairbreadth escapes and experiences on the water which some times terminate less happily. It is an old resort colony which numbers among its guests George Ball of Muncie, Indiana, Will Hays, movie czar, and many other notables.

Glen Lake, rated third most beautiful lake in the world, is the mecca each summer of tens of thousands of tourists who have heard of its beauty. From the heights surrounding the lake may be obtained a vista of everlasting beauty over the great sand dunes of Sleeping Bear, largest traveling sand dune in the world, and out into Lake Michigan where North and South Manitou Islands offer shelter to ships using the "inside passage" up and down Lake Michigan. On the shores of the big lake huddles Glen Haven, home of one of the region's bigger cherry packing plants, and between Glen Lake and Lake Michigan are the Day Forest Estates, a vast tract of reforested land with a golf course literally carved out of the forests. It was a portion of this vast woods which was offered the Duke of Windsor as his American home just after his abdication.

These, together with Maple City, Cedar and Lake Leelanau are only a few of the many scenic and historic features which make Leelanau county one of Michigan's outstanding show places.

HAS BACK SEAT DRIVER VALUE? TESTS TO SHOW

Novel and Expectedly Helpful Feature of Illinois Fair

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 5—(AP)—State fair visitors have been promised a scientific answer to this question:

"What has my back seat driver got that I haven't, if anything?"

The public health department arranged today an exhibit to settle once and for all, in individual cases, whether highway coaching is a safety factor or needless irritation. A series of tests to determine potential driving skill will be offered free to all persons desiring them (back seat drivers included.)

Conducted by a staff of specially trained experienced traffic engineers from the state division of highways, the tests are designed to show the ability to judge distance, the speed of moving cars ahead and to the side, the time required to make decisions accurately, the time required to stop in emergencies and the capacity to see clearly and to detect colors accurately.

The tests are similar to those required at six months intervals of army aviators and commercial transport pilots.

To Form Habits

"All of these physiological factors are of great importance in the motor car driver and he can form safe driving habits only by knowing definitely his own strength and weakness with reference to them," said Dr. Frank J. Kirka, state health director.

Another health department exhibit will expose medical fads and the potential dangers of numerous cosmetics.

"Among the outstanding features," Dr. Kirka said, "will be entirely new exhibits of syphilis, tuberculosis, rabies, diphtheria, maternal hygiene, typhoid fever, milk sanitation and occupational hazards."

"It is anticipated that a new talking movie on syphilis, made by the U. S. Public Health Service and which presents frankly but without depressing emotional appeal, the scientific facts about the disease, will be shown the first time in central Illinois. These and other features will present reliable knowledge about problems in health protection which arise daily in the lives of people everywhere."

More than 900 youngsters from 45 counties had been enrolled in the better babies conference at the fair.

'Chip Shots' from the Country Club

The ladies of the Rochelle Town and Country Club entertained the golfing Amazons from Dixon, Morrison and the Kishwaukee course in DeKalb Wednesday morning. The interlude of golf was followed by luncheon at the club house.

Prizes were garnered in by Mrs. Floyd Chapman who toured the course in low gross. That is with-out counting handicap. Mrs. Lee Dysart had low net for the locals. Low gross and net, respectively, for the Kishwaukeeans were Mrs. Hazel Oakland and Mrs. A. Dolder. Mrs. Diller had low gross for Rochelle. Mrs. Askvig had the steady nerves of the entire group of putters for she came home with low total in putts.

A chance was given for the poorer golfers to redeem themselves in the afternoon at the bridge table.

"Hottest" golfer among the ladies at the local club this year appears to be Catherine Buchner who upset Donna Chapman in the final round of the Coss trophy flight. The versatile Catherine, who was "seeded" third had to overcome the favored play of Mildred Beier and Chapman in order to gain the trophy. In the first round she downed Lil Dysart and then went on playing great golf to surprise Mrs. Beier in the semi-final round. Mrs. Chapman proceeded rather easily to the final round via victims Mrs. Buchner and Mrs. Coss. In the 36-hole match play final the name of Buchner was avenged when Catherine won 3 and 2 against Chapman. Almost consistently the prizes for low score, Mrs. Chapman is out "to get" Catherine in the next intra-club tourney.

One of the most enjoyable of tournaments is carded for the month of August when the fight traditional begins for the President's Trophy donated this year by George Beier. The ladies will drive, chip, putt, ejaculate and utter dainty vituperatives around 54 holes in a battle against bogey in an effort to gain the coveted trophy.

Both men and women members of the Country club will be able to see how "the other half" behaves when things go wrong on the fairways this month for the best two-ball mixed foursome tournament will get under way immediately. As a similar tournament was conducted in Rochelle so will it be run off on the local links. This plan calls for 9 holes to be played in the late afternoon. Dinner will be served after each nine holes. Both women and men who believe that they can refrain from shocking the other half when they dub a shot are requested to post their names at the club house.

The ubiquitous ladies will go to Rock River course in Sterling next Wednesday, August 11. All ladies are urged to go to the Sterling links for the festivities planned. It promises to be a gala day.

Harold Coss, commander of the Knights Templar, entertained that organization last night at the Country club with dinner. The Knights exerted themselves before the dinner with golf and baseball with the result that appetites were reminiscent of the Knights of old.

Mother, Survivor of Family Tragedy, has Restful Night

Columbus, Ky., Aug. 5—(AP)—Mrs. Jane Morse, 42, who was stabbed five times when her four children were slain with a butcher knife Tuesday night, was said by Town Marshal Charles Burton today to have spent a "restful night" and was expected to recover unless complications set in.

Her husband, W. J. Morse, a lanky World War veteran of 45, was in jail at Mayfield. Sheriff H. A. Hicks said the man admitted the crime.

Morse still refused to talk today and added nothing to the words, "I don't know why I did it; just crazy. I guess," which the sheriff ascribed to him upon arrest. The sheriff said Morse had been shell-shocked during the World war.

'Yellow Kid' Weil Again Beats Law

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 5—(AP)—J. G. Hall, postal inspector in the Birmingham office, said today Joseph R. Weil, a confidence man known to police as the "Yellow Kid" had made his getaway after posing as a doctor here for more than a year.

Hall said Weil was under indictment in New York for using the mails to defraud, and that bulletin boards in postoffices all over the country bore his picture on a "wanted" placard.

The man became frightened, Hall said, when a New York newspaper man ran a series of pictures showing Weil in various disguises. While postal inspectors were making definite identification of the "doctor" he left the city.

Toy-Lending 'Library' a Success

Success of the toy-lending "library," recently inaugurated as an experiment by the Chicago Park District, and pictured above, has prompted the institution of additional units throughout the city. Children who possess library cards, signed by their parents, are permitted to play with the scooters, dolls, trains, and puzzles provided, and upon making a selection, are allowed to take the toy home for a seven-day period. Breakage has been surprisingly small and losses few. The playroom of the library is shown in the top photo, and below, Miss Maxine Camp, librarian, checks out a doll to a waiting girl.

"Why Keep Open?"

A Baptist church on the outskirts of Chicago has an actual membership of 5, and an enrollment of 11 in the Sunday school. When the pastor of this little flock was asked why he bothered to keep the church open he replied that he thought that some day Chicago would grow in this direction and he wished the Baptist cause to be here on the ground awaiting it. That's what we call faith!

Sometimes we wonder at the use of holding services on the occasions when few seem interested; we need to remember that the tide will turn; men will tire of drinking at broken cisterns which can hold no water and be glad to return to Him who offers the water of Life. We want to be ready when the times of refreshing from the Lord will come.

We invite you to the services next Lord's day: at 10:00 A. M. the pastor will preach on "The Social Effects of Our Sins" and at 7:30 P. M. on "An Unintended Tribute". The young people will meet at 7 P. M. for song and discussion.

Lewis Backs Two Illinois Judges for Supreme Court

Washington, Aug. 5—(AP)—Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois carried to the White House today data to support his recommendation of State Supreme Court Judges Norman L. Jones of Carrollton, Ill., and Warren H. Orr of Rock Island, Ill., for appointment to the United States Supreme Court.

Lewis submitted both names to President Roosevelt soon after Justice Willis Van Devanter retired some time ago.

He said the data which he submitted today to Colonel Martin H. McIntyre, presidential secretary, consisted of biographical matter and details of cases the judges decided. Both have served as Chief Justice of the state court under the Illinois plan of rotating the chief judgeship.

SUMMER TARGET SHOOTING

By Monroe H. Goode

The outdoor target shooting season opens with the approach of balmy weather in the spring and closes with the first snow. On hundreds of rifle ranges throughout the United States, over a quarter of a million persons from every walk of life—youths and adults of both sexes—annually derive great pleasure from rifle shooting, both large and small bore. Any sport that takes people out of crowded, stuffy quarters into the sunshine and fresh air is beneficial to the race. There is nothing that will do more to steady the nerves, quicken the pulse, improve the vision, and add to the general physical welfare than outdoor small bore rifle shooting.

The rifleman who goes in for serious small bore match shooting should countenance nothing short of the best equipment money will buy; otherwise he will be hopelessly outclassed by his more discriminating competitors. The four most important items to the match shooter in the order of their importance are: (1) strictly modern, heavy-barrel, superaccurate rifle with micrometer receiver rear sight with aperture discs; (2) special match ammunition especially selected for his particular rifle; (3) a high quality, 10-power telescope sight with medium-fine cross hair reticule; and (4) a high-quality spotting scope with approximately 2-inch objective and of about 20 power.

A rather complete list of equipment required by the small bore marksman has been compiled for the benefit of beginners. Start right and avoid delay and disappointment. Rifle: Heavy-barrel, improved (1937) version of the famous Winchester Model 52 Target rifle with Marksman stock, Remington Model 37 "Rangemaster" (both precision-made, commercial target arms), or custom-made jobs on the above actions by such people as George Titherington, John Dubiel, Eric Johnson, A. Hubalek, Griffin & Howe, Sedgley, Nieder, etc. No other American rifles will suffice.

Gun case: Berlin sheepskin gun case, a protection against rust and hard knocks.

Rion sights: Redfield, Lyman, Parker-Hale, Watson, or Vaver receiver rear sights or extension receiver rear sights by Marble-Goss, Lyman, or Vaver, and globe front sight with aperture discs such as the Redfield, Lyman, Watson, or Parker-Hale.

Telescope sights: 10X Lyman Super Targetspot Scope with medium-fine coarse hair reticule and the latest three point, 4-inch click mounts. The Dymon Super Targetspot, just announced, has a 134-inch objective lens as compared with 110-inch objective of the Targetspot.

Spotting scope: Bausch & Lomb N. R. A. Model Prismatic 10.5X Scope. Magnification of about 20 is best in scopes with 2-inch objectives; scopes of more than 26X should be avoided.

Spotting scope stand: Bausch & Lomb, Randle, Mossberg, Hart, Hoffer, Westchester, and Parker-Hale stands are all good.

Sling: Hart "Staput" target sling, Carney sling, or the regular army sling.

Sling pad: Wilder sling pad made of soft crepe rubber on a heavy leather base.

Shooting coat: 10-X rifleman's coat with the new type padding.

Shooting glasses: King's "Rifle-ite" shooting glasses.

Gauges: N. R. A. three-hole gauges to help determine the value of close shots.

Shooting glove: 10-X Randle, or O'Hare shooting glove.

Cartridge block: Cartridge block to hold at least 20 cartridges plus sighters.

Carbide lamp: Carbide lamp for blackening sights.

Score book: National Rifle association score book.

Ground cloth: A heavy water-proofed, canvas ground cloth to protect the clothing from dampness, dust, or mud, as the case may be, when shooting from the prone position.

Shooting kit: Most of them are satisfactory if large and strong enough to hold rifle scope, spotting scope, scope stand, ammunition, and many trinkets usually found in the rifleman's kit.

Miscellaneous: Every shooter has his own ideas on what small gadgets should be carried in his shooting kit but most of the following are usually found: cleaning rods, cotton flannel cleaning patches, brass bristle brushes, solvents, lubricants, extra blades and apertures for front sight, rifle rest, large and small screw drivers, pliers, small file, sight reamers, matches, carbide lamp, sharp pencils, score book, safety pins, knife, thumb tacks, screws, punches, bullet hole gauges, cigars or pipe, coric screw, bottle opener, and shooting glasses.

Match ammunition: Match ammunition must be chosen with great care if the best results are demanded. Only the better grades of special match ammunition put out by the major firms should be countenanced. Each rifle is a law unto itself. Nothing but a careful test will show what brand of cartridges a given rifle will best handle, and this varies with different lots of the same brand. When a shooter finds a special lot of ammunition that shoots exceptionally good in his rifle, he should immediately lay in a supply.

Here and There In Sports World

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Aug. 5—(AP)—

Mike Jacobs moves into the Garden? ... Well, there wasn't much else for the Garden directors to do. The big money in fighting is in the heavyweights and Mike has almost all the good ones in his pocket—Louis, Braddock, and Schmeling, etc. The deal makes Jacobs absolute czar of the cauliflower ear industry. They'll all have to call him uncle from now on. Everyone is wondering what will happen to Jimmy Johnston, for years maestro at the Garden. This corner predicts an early tie-up between Jimmy and Jacobs, which would be highly advantageous to all concerned.

Is it against the rules for the Yanks to hit a single any more? ... Out in Chicago all they talk about is a world's series between the Cubs and Yanks. The Los Angeles pro football team will try to buy Sammy Baugh, the forward passing expert of Texas Christian, from the Washington Redskins.

What's this, the Dodgers have a big trade cooking? ... Properly handled, there is a bright future ahead of Sandy McDonald, the Dallas, Tex., heavyweight, who goes against Eddie Hogan in the Garden tonight. ... Anybody wanting to lease a couple of ball parks should see Mike Jacobs. ... He has 'em and doesn't need 'em, what with just acquiring the Garden bowl.

Maybe you have often wondered what a ball player says to an umpire just before a run-in. ... We can tell you what one said. ... ## CHURCH ATTENDANCE

Press notices sent out by the American Magazine summarizing an article in the current issue dealing with church attendance, start with the following paragraph: "The Protestant church today has lost a large portion of its former strength and support in the United States because it no longer has anything vital, gripping or enlightening to offer, according to a consensus of former church-goers."

The press article centers upon several points said to be the vital ones, the principal ones being as follows:

"The church, as a center of charity, has been replaced by secular, civic and county chest funds, administered by business men and social workers. And a vast part of relief has been taken over by the government."

"The church, once the cradle of education and the founder of many colleges, is no longer the keeper of knowledge and the source of education. Modern science springs from the laboratory. Knowledge is mined and pieced together through countless agencies, most of them secular. Newspapers, magazines, radio, books, motion pictures, and non-sectarian schools disseminate education."

The final paragraph of the press notice says: "Most of the people questioned said they believed in God, believed in prayer, but having this belief, felt that the church had nothing further to offer them."

If the last paragraph is true, what's all the commotion about? It answers in large measure the question of whether or not the church is doing its work. The method doesn't matter so much. Without going farther than the press notice to examine the aim of the author, we should say he is confusing the church edifice with church influence.

Some writers, particularly young ones, accept as facts such unwarranted assertions as that the snows were deeper in grandfather's time, and proceed from such false foundations. Young writers proceed on the assumption that pre-war persons and pre-war morals were something different from those of the present. The war messed up our economic conditions, but we do not notice that humans are much different.

One disposed to look to the automobile as an instrument of most of our changes, would turn instinctively to it, but people were talking about empty church pews when automobiles were owned only by the banker and the doctor and were not affecting church attendance at all.

First, we should like to know how much church attendance has fallen off before regarding it as something to worry about. Are the empty pews the ones that formerly were filled, or are they additional pews built when we erected the new edifice in our effort to keep up with the Joneses? Have we erected too many churches instead of filling the pews of those already in existence?

As a practical means of filling empty pews, Protestant churches used to resort to several weeks of revival services. It was a spiritual feast, but a practical means of obtaining members, audience, and contributors to take the places of members deceased and moved away or enticed away by the devil.

Some change has come about in that respect, and each church or denomination has evolved its own means of perpetuating itself.

The church is continuing to instruct in the fundamentals of religion, using a little heaven to leaven the whole lump, and whether it does it in the way we became accustomed to when we were children or whether it does it through processes that are in accord with needs of folks who boast of being "modern", is of small consequence.

ILLINOIS A FEDERAL PUPPET

What the forty-eight states let themselves in for when they submitted to being transformed into a string of puppets by enactment of the social security legislation in the name of human misery, now is coming to light.

Illinois passed a law providing for paying its share of age pensions and for administering the funds furnished jointly by the federal and state governments. The Washington bureau said it didn't like Illinois' law and it would not give us any money until we passed one dictated by the bureau. Some of our legislative officials and others went to Washington and kowtowed to the bureaucrats and came back with the law that Washington said we should pass.

Having passed the law dictated by the bureaucrats, Illinois was not yet out of trouble. The state must do some more kowtowing to Washington bureaucrats—or we can't have any of our own money we are paying into the public treasury. They will give it to other states.

Washington bureaucrats who are so keen for relief of human misery and for the one-third that is undernourished and underfed, suddenly decreed that Illinois shall not share in the funds it pays to Washington for the assistance of the aged.

Thumbs up, thumbs down, thumbs wiggle-waggle, stand on your head.

The majestic state of Illinois wiggle-waggle and stands on its head.

"Tyrannical!" says Governor Horner, returning from a vacation to face the emergency created by the bureaucrats.

"The federal board and its agents have pursued

Illinois with the vengeance of a Simon Legree and executed us before they tried us," said Director A. L. Bowen of the department of welfare.

The most deplorable thing is not what the federal government did, it is the fact that it is able to do it. If the government would leave to Illinois the tax money it pays, the state could carry the full amount of the pensions for which it is obligated and have money left. We pay in more than we receive from the federal government, yet it is enabled to make a monkey of the sovereign state of Illinois, merely by saying, "Your policemen beat up the C. I. O. organizers and we are going to make you uncomfortable until you get into line."

Of course, that isn't what the bureaucrats said, but they are in position to say that and to make it stick. That is the underworld method of use of power and the underworld method has been moved from Tammany hall to Washington.

The state of Illinois has abdicated.

New Regulations for Stock Brokers

Washington, Aug. 4—(AP)—The securities commission will require over-the-counter dealers and brokers, after Oct. 1 to disclose their special interest in transactions before completing sales of securities to investors. The regulation was embodied in a new code of ethics the commission announced for that kind of investment houses.

The purpose, officials said today, is to forewarn investors of the motives of dealers or brokers who advise certain investments.

A broker or dealer, for instance, will be required to tell whether he is selling a security for his own profit or merely as the agent of another person, whether he is associated with or paid by the underwriter of the security, and what commissions or fees he is getting for promoting the sale.

The commission also adopted rules prohibiting brokers or dealers from making excessive commitments for accounts of clients who have authorized the brokers or dealers to use their own discretion in investing money.

Another rule will bar brokers or dealers from describing as "market" prices any quotations on over-the-counter securities not determined by independent purchase and sale offers made by persons not associated with brokers, or dealers.

Where to Go This Coming Week-End

By DEDE WELCH

Secretary Dixon Branch Chicago Motor Club

Hundreds of thousands of heavily budded lotus plants covering the quiet waters of Grass Lake, fourteen miles northeast of McHenry, will begin blooming on August 7th to produce the annual aquatic floral spectacle for which these famous lotus beds of Illinois are renowned. For a short week end trip the Chicago Motor Club recommends a visit to this beautiful spot.

Observers expect that the deep ivory colored flowers, said to be found in only three spots in the world, will start to blossom about Saturday, Aug. 7, and the beds will be at their height for the following week or ten days. The unusually large amount of buds now forming gives rise to a prediction that the lotus will be more profuse and that the display will surpass that of other years.

The Chicago Motor Club recommends route No. 2 from Dixon to Rockford, and No. 173 from Rockford to Grass Lake. The event is to be celebrated this year with a lotus festival being planned for Aug. 7-15 by the newly organized Lions' club of nearby Fox Lake. Features of the festival program will be the crowning of a lotus queen, a regatta for yachts, speed boats, and swimming races, fishing contests and nightly water shows.

The lotus found at Grass Lake is not unlike the sacred lotus of the ancient Nile for which it is named, and the heavy, sweet odor of the lily-like blossom was once famed to induce forgetfulness of care and produce a state of dreamy repose.

Grass Lake, the small body of water where the largest part of the beds is located, borders both McHenry and Lake counties, and the narrow channel joining it with Fox Lake, on the south, is almost entirely filled with this plants.

REPUBLICANS OF NORTHERN STATE AT STARVED ROCK

Meeting Next Thursday Will Have Some National Aspects

Streator, Aug. 5—(Special)—One week from today, on Thursday, August 12, Northern Illinois will have its post-fall political curtain raiser.

The occasion will be an inter-county picnic to be held at Starved Rock Park, with the La Salle County Republican Central Committee as host to a crowd that is expected to run close to twenty thousand.

The gathering is planned as a miniature "grass roots" occasion when Republicans of Northern Illinois meet in the open air amphitheatre in the historic spot to rededicate their belief in the principals of the party which was founded eighty-three years ago in the old court house at Ottawa.

"We have received responses from more than forty counties," J. E. Hill, Streator, Chairman of the County Central Committee, declared today. "Naturally, the heaviest attendance will come from the 12th, 14th and 16th Congressional districts, but we will have representative delegations from practically every section of the state."

With Congressman Everett M. Dirksen, Pekin, as the speaker, the meeting will take on national aspects. Dirksen, one of the outstanding Republican leaders at Washington, has been outspoken in his house-floor criticisms of many Democratic acts, and he is expected to bring to Starved Rock additional verbal pictures of "the Washington Scene" as he has witnessed it during three terms in Congress.

The picnic will commence at noon or shortly thereafter. During the afternoon there will be free entertainment, and competitive sports for young and old. The hour of six has been set aside for the family basket picnic.

Congressman Dirksen will speak at eight o'clock in the evening. Following the evening program there will be fireworks on the Illinois River front and free dancing in the big park pavilion.

Details of the gathering are being handled by the Executive Committee, made up of the following precinct committeemen, Bert Thompson, Sheridan, Harry Cook, E. P. Hitter, Ottawa, L. L. Gast, Earlville, Hale Jackson, Rutland, F. R. Hagi, Ransom, Frank Tersele, John Trengouning, La Salle, J. W. Essington, Streator, Rudolph Witte, Mendota, W. D. Mundorf, Wedron, C. C. Harbeck, Ulica, Harry E. Halm, Peru, Herbert Marselles, and Committee chairman, Sports, Harold Laugel, St. Charles, Andrew Singer, Streator, Reception, Mrs. Helen Wilson, Ottawa and Decoration, M. J. Donahue, Streator and Wm. J. Lewis, Streator, member of the state central committee is in charge of publicity.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

A fascinating pastime with Albert Edward Wiggam, S.S.E. Author of "THE MARKS OF A CLEAR MIND"

IS IT POSSIBLE TO PICK OUT THE CRIMINAL AND NON-CRIMINAL TYPE FROM PHOTOGRAPHS? YES OR NO

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea." (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Never in all one's life does he need understanding—and sympathy—so much as when he is in love—especially adolescent love. It is the profoundest emotional experience known to human beings and affects both bodily and mental health. If parents poke fun at boys and girls at this time the young people simply close up like clams—just the time when they need open-minded understanding. The wisest course is for parents and elders to accept it as being as natural as the sunshine and as very important and to make provisions for the young people to see each other openly.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. It is the worst possible guide and carries millions of people to an early grave. Dr. Mary Swartz Rose, nutrition chemist, points out in the Scientific Monthly that whole regions and even races have been af-fectured with ill health and a high death rate by eating foods deficient in vitamins or calcium or phosphorus or some needed element that cannot be detected by the taste or smell. Children who do not get plenty of milk and green vegetables

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No. It is not possible to pick out any types from photographs, criminal or otherwise. Dr. H. L. Hollingworth, psychologist, collected photographs of people whose main characteristics were already known and accurately recorded. He then submitted these photographs to numerous competent judges and there was hardly a suspicion of agreement either between the judges themselves as to the characteristics of each person or between their judgments and the actual characteristics already ascertained. Reading character in one's face, or head, as I have often pointed out, is sheer bunk.

Air conditioning also promises to reopen the field of climatology. This was of great interest to the ancient physicians but has been far too much neglected in modern times. By means of air conditioning and artificial light radiations, it should be possible to bring the "salubrious climate of Egypt" to the ward or hospital room that houses the child sick with bronchopneumonia.

We should be able to create the weather we desire, and thereby ease the pains of the rheumatic patient suffering an acute attack, the asthmatic who labors for his breath, the man sick with heart disease, and the individual suffering from a psychic depression.

Much of our reaction to weather is psychologic. "What is so rare as a day in June?" is as much the enthusiastic cry of the soul as of the body.

BIG MONEY IN RED SOX NOW TALKING

Yawkey's Team Hard After White Sox for Runner-Up

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

That big money that Tom Yawkey threw into the Boston Red Sox is talking again.

In fact, it's shouting so loud it's making nervous wrecks of a lot of American league strong-arm squads. How long it can continue remains to be seen, but if past performances are any indication, the Sox will keep on surging until their series next week with the New York Yankees slaughterers, who are now coasting along on an eight-game lead. Then they'll go quietly back to sleep for a time, as usual.

Until then, however, the three-million dollar investment of Yawkey's is going to keep on doing a lot of damage among the loop's stronger contenders. Headed by a clouting comeback in second-base-man Doc McNair and a lot of flinging ability still in the aging but agile left arm of Bob Grove, the Gold Sox—last year they were the Gold Fops—haven't been beaten in nine starts. In their current home stand they have chalked up their longest winning streak under the Yawkey banner.

Flirting With Chicago
Big guns in this drive that has skyrocketed the Sox to a spot where they're flirting with second place have been four of Connie Mack's fancy-priced ex-Athletics—McNair, Jimmy Foss and Pinky Higgins with their bats, and Grove with his baffling southpaw slants.

McNair, snapping out of his month-long cream-puff hitting droughts, has been belting the ball for a .405 average in the present 10-game drive. Foss and Higgins are moving along at .382 and .359, respectively. The three of them have driven in 29 runs in the surge. Grove is breezing along on a personal three-game winning streak. Aiding this quartet are a couple of rookies, outfielder Colonel G. Mills and catcher Gene Desautels, who are paying first-year dividends with .357 averages for the ten games.

One Game Behind
They started out the home stand by toppling the Browns in two out of three. Then they knocked the ears off the Tigers in three games and tied a fourth. At present they are working on the Indians with the same success. They made it three straight over the Tribe yesterday, with a doubleheader win, 8-6 and 6-5, as Foss belted homers Nos. 27 and 28.

This twin win left them just a game back of the second-place White Sox, who learned first-hand again from the homer specialists, the Yanks, that there's no come-back for a circuit out. Bill Dickey belted one with the bases loaded and Lou Gehrig hammered his 23d before a single by Jake Powell in the ninth broke up the game and gave the Yanks a 10-9 win, their third straight over the slipping Sox.

The Giants cut their National league deficit to six games back of the Cubs by nosing out the Reds, 4-3. The Cubs lost a 2-1 heartbreaker to Lefty McMaster and the Phillies.

The Dodgers pummeled the Pirates, 10-7. The Cardinals put on a ninth-inning five-run rally to top the Bees, 7-6. The Tigers walloped the Athletics, 11-7, and the Browns beat the Senators, 5-3.

Old Timers Seek Revenge: Hope to Get It Tomorrow

The old time base ball players of Dixon, smarting odds-ends over the defeat handed them last week by the Dixon Junior American Legion team, have sworn bitter reprisals in their return game at Reynolds Field tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and a big crowd is expected to watch the efforts of the oldsters against youth and spirit. Next Tuesday the Legion team will go to Shabbona to meet the town team as a feature of a cheese day celebration.

Galan is Benched by Mgr. Chas. Grimm

Chicago, Aug. 5—(AP)—Outfielder Augie Galan's efforts in behalf of the National league-leading Cubs, will be confined to moral support for a few days, or until he regains his batting eye. Galan, whose only hit in his last 40 times at bat was a bunt he beat out, was benched yesterday and George (Tuck) Stainback was sent to left field by Manager Charlie Grimm.

Handcuffed

Denver, Aug. 5—(AP)—Bob Griffith, Negro righthander, fanned Rogers Hornsby, recently deposed manager of the St. Louis American League club, three times last night as the Negro All-Stars shut out the Denver Refiners, 12 to 0. Twice Hornsby watched the third strike sail by. On his fourth trip to the plate Hornsby lifted a fly to the outfield.

Griffith allowed the Refiners but six hits and permitted only two opponents to get as far as second base.

Two of the remaining three undefeated teams in the Denver Post's annual semi pro tournament meet tonight when the Berger, Texas, Carbons play the Pampa, Texas, Oilers. The Negroes are the third unbeaten aggregation.

Yesterday's results: Seminole, Okla., 6, Worland, Wyo., 2.

Eason Oilers, Enid, Okla., 5, Leyden, Colo., Miners 4 (11 innings). Negro All-Stars 12, Denver Refiners 0.

Junior Net Stars Go Into Quarter-finals at Culver

Culver, Ind., Aug. 5—(AP)—The national junior tennis tournament reached the quarter-final round today in singles competition with the eight survivors being the first eight seeded players in the meet.

The boys' division also was in the quarter-final round but several of the favored players were on the sidelines, victims of upsets.

Joseph Hunt of Los Angeles, top seeded player in the junior class, was paired today against Harry Heffner of Edgewood, Md. Hunt eliminated Joe Davis of Nashville, Tenn., yesterday 6-2, 6-3, while Heffner trimmed Larry Dee of San Francisco, 5-7, 6-2, 6-1.

Other juniors in the quarter-finals were Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif.; Seymour Greenberg of Chicago; Isadore Bellis of Philadelphia; William Gillespie of Atlanta, Ga.; Joseph Fishback of New York and John Moreno of Los Angeles.

In the boys' division Carrothers, who raced to a 6-2, 6-1 victory yesterday over Jack Diehl of Dayton, O., was paired against Robert Derham of Chicago.

Doubles matches yesterday ran true to form without any upsets. Second round junior summaries included:

Isadore Bellis, Philadelphia, and Joseph Fishback, New York, defeated George Davis, Kalamazoo, and Emory Gaffney, Lincoln, Ill., 6-1, 6-1.

Three Favorites in Maidstone Meet Win
East Hampton, N. Y., Aug. 5—(AP)—Although they encountered the stiffest kind of opposition, three of the favorites in the Maidstone Club's invitation tennis tournament made their way into the semi-final round of play.

The lone upset yesterday was the defeat of Carolyn Babcock, of Los Angeles, by Mme. Sylvia Henriot, of France, 6-1, 6-4.

Mrs. Sarah Fabyan, of Cambridge, Mass.; Jadwiga Jedrejowska, of Poland, and Gracy Wheeler, of Santa Monica, Calif., all came through after grueling matches.

Mrs. Fabyan came back from a 3-5 deficit in the first set to beat Helen Pedersen, of Stamford, Conn., 9-7, 6-0. Miss Jedrejowska rallied after a hectic first set to down Dorothy Bundy, of Santa Monica, Calif., 8-6, 6-3. Miss Wheeler, troubled by the speed of Katherine Winthrop, of Boston, went three sets before she won 3-5, 6-4, 6-4.

JACOBS LEASES GARDEN; IS NOW NO. 1 PROMOTER

Brown Bomber Enables Mike to Succeed Tex Rickard as Tops

New York, Aug. 5—(AP)—The varied destinies of the cauliflower industry passed today from the grip of Madison Square Garden, which had held them since the reign of Tex Rickard, to Mike Jacobs, the man who parlayed a Brown Bomber and a punch into the dictatorship of the fight game.

Jacobs, in leasing for two seasons the Garden and its outdoor arena, the big bowl in Long Island city, assumed Rickard's old past as the fight game's No. 1 promoter. He plans indoor boxing shows for the Garden this winter and next and outdoor fights at the bowl in 1938 and 1939.

Was Rickard's Partner
Jacobs, a ticket-broker, learned the devious business methods of the fight game as Rickard's partner in the halcyon days of the million dollar gates and the 600 millionaires. When Rickard died Jacobs went back to a booming brokerage business and others tried to fill Rickard's shoes.

One of them was Jimmy Johnston, who, as matchmaker for the Garden, is now a man without a job. Many believe Johnston, an astute promoter in his own right, will join Jacobs. He joined Mike once before in promoting Joe Louis' first indoor appearance in New York, a bout with Paulino Uzcudun.

Jacobs now has the use of the garden and the Hippodrome, where he staged shows last winter through his 20th century sporting club. Outdoors he has the Yankee Stadium, the Polo Grounds and the Garden bowl, the three largest outdoor arenas in New York.

The state had charged the claims were filed against the Chicago Surface Lines after a street car collision November 20. Later it was discovered the street car had been empty at the time of the accident.

Dusty Hanover is Favored to Win on Agawam Track Today

Agawam, Mass., Aug. 5—(AP)—Hanover Shoe Farms' Dusty Hanover, rested after a victory at Old Orchard Beach, Me., last week, went to the line a favorite in today's Grand Circuit feature at Agawam Park, the $3,247 American stake for three-year-olds pacers.

With Henry Thomas of the Hanover, Pa., stables driving, the colt was given a slight edge over Paul Bowser's Avondale, H. D. Biery's Ammandale, and Samuel Smyth, Jr.'s Robert Hanover.

Other entries included R. J. Reynolds' Mack Abbey, John P. Scripps' Princess Abigail and Emmaite, owned by J. I. and E. T. Lyle, Inc., of Plainfield, N. J. Bowser's Desota became an outstanding favorite in next Wednesday's rich Hambletonian stake at Goshen, N. Y., by her victory yesterday over seven other Hambletonian candidates in the $8,523 American stake.

With Tom Berry driving, Desota was out in front in the first two heats, but trailed Twilight Song, owned by W. H. Strang of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Schnapps, owned by W. N. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N. C., in the final heat.

Desota's times in the first two heats were 2:29½ and 2:02¾.

PROJECT BACK-FIRED
Urbana, Ill., Aug. 4—(AP)—They put bright electric lights in some of the trees in the University of Illinois district to frighten away the blackbirds, but the project back-fired.

"It was worse than a failure," Alderman C. T. Knipp informed the city council. "The birds seemed to appreciate having the way to their roosting place lighted. Trees without the convenience soon were forsaken for those with the lights."

State Officials Hope New Deal Will Give Illinois Fair Deal

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 5—(AP)—Again concentrating on reorganization, state officials anticipated today a delayed victory in the campaign to get more old age pension grants from the federal social security board.

There was small prospect, however, that August payments could be started much before the end of the month.

With Governor Horner in Chicago for the dedication of the $1,225,000 Stony Island avenue extension, the administration did not comment on the pension situation pending the return of A. L. Bowen, director of public welfare, from Washington conferences with the Social Security Board.

The federal board yesterday promised to reexamine the Illinois pension set-up with a view of resuming matching grants to permit payments at the monthly maximum of $30. Word from Washington indicated the action probably would be taken in two weeks.

Office Reorganized
Federal charges of inefficiency in the old age assistance division were the basis for the recent suspension of funds. The office is being reorganized by John C. Weigel, Bowen's administrative assistant, who two weeks ago was placed over Superintendent James H. Andrews.

With pressure from Horner, Senator Lewis and Illinois congressmen, state house opinion was that the board would probably withdraw its suspension order and resume the matching of state funds spent for pensions.

Behind schedule because the July grant was late in arriving from Washington, the auditor's office expects to have the last of last month's pension checks in the mail in ten days or two weeks. Another waiting period before August checks can be sent out is then probable.

BOWEN RETURNS
Chicago, Aug. 5—(AP)—Director A. L. Bowen of the Illinois welfare department, returning from Washington where he conferred with the Federal Social Security Board, predicted today that federal old age pension grants to the state would be resumed soon, probably within a month.

The federal board last week cut off aid to the state, amounting to approximately $1,000,000 monthly, with the assertion the Illinois pension system failed to meet U. S. standards.

They have asked us to do several things which we can do readily enough now that we have a new state law giving up authority over county organizations that we did not have previously," Director Bowen said as he paused here on his way to Springfield.

Wants Master Control
"The federal board wants a master control register established that is a complete alphabetical list of pensioners to check against double payments. We can have that completed shortly, possibly this week."

"We are also told we have applications filed that haven't been given proper consideration. We reply that our finances are limited. The applications will be cleared up and either approved or disapproved."

"We are also asked to speed up the hearing of appeals by people dissatisfied with their pension awards. I believe the situation will be straightened out within a month."

The effect continued stoppage of federal assistance would be, Bowen said, to cut the average pension payments to the state's 115,000 pensioners from $17 to $8.50 monthly.

INSANE WOMAN KILLS SPOUSE; FIRES HOUSE
Nashville, Ill., Aug. 5—(AP)—Sheriff J. U. Spencer said today Mrs. Ruth Schnake, 42, had confessed she shot her husband, Ray, 43, and then burned the farm home near Richview after soaking the house with kerosene.

Her husband's charred body was found in the smoldering ruins after Mrs. Schnake had fled to the home of a neighbor, R. T. Trues, and told them the house was burning. Trues told the sheriff Mrs. Schnake warned him not to attempt to enter the house because "my husband set fire to it and is inside with a gun."

The sheriff asserted part of Schnake's head had been torn away, apparently by a shotgun charge. He said remnants of the bed were bloodstained, and the bloodstained breach of a shotgun was found near the bed.

"I don't know why I did it," Spencer said Mrs. Schnake sobbed after her confession.

A medical commission appointed by Acting State Attorney Byron House ordered the woman committed to the state hospital for the insane at Anna, Ill.

MR. ICKES WANTS TO BE CZAR NEW HOUSING PROJECT

Says He Knows More About It Than Any Board Could

Washington, Aug. 5—(AP)—Secretary Ickes made a formal bid today for administrative control of the proposed new federal housing program.

He told the house banking committee that administration of the Wagner housing bill should be placed under the jurisdiction of the Interior Department because of its experience with low cost housing projects.

"We either ought to fish, or cut bait," Ickes said, with regard to reorganizing the executive department of the government. "There would be just as much logic to passing a bill providing for three secretaries of the treasury as to enact this bill with its present executive provisions."

Ickes said the proposal in the bill pending in the senate to have a three-man independent body administer the bill "just doesn't make sense to me."

Lines Reformed
Administration leaders reformed their lines in the senate today to defend the housing bill against further restrictive amendments.

They discussed the possibility of reconsidering a 40-39 vote that fixed a limit on the cost of proposed low-rent housing projects.

The limitation, offered by Senator Byrd (D-Va.), would withhold all federal assistance from projects costing more than $4,000 a family unit or $1,000 a room.

Byrd said it was designed to prevent "extravagance" like that which he charged occurred in construction of homestead projects by the resettlement administration.

WAGE-HOUR BILL FACES FIGHT BY FARMERS' BLOC

Washington, Aug. 5—(AP)—The wage and hour bill passed by the Senate and approved by the House labor committee—ran up against opposition today from members of the House farm bloc.

They said they would try to tie up the measure in the rules committee unless they win their objective, consideration of a bill to resume general crop loans.

(The rules committee has the power to determine whether a bill can come before the House at once. By withholding approval it might prevent a vote at this session.)

There were differing statements on the committee's probable attitude.

Chairman Norton (D-N. J.) of the House labor committee, which agreed last yesterday to recommend the revised wage-hour bill, said she had been informed by Chairman O'Connor (D. N. Y.) of the rules committee that no obstacles would be raised.

She said she expected the bill would be granted a special rule Monday which would permit the House to begin debating it Tuesday.

O'Connor, however, told reporters he could not predict what the committee would do. He said he would be in New York during the week-end and did not expect to return until Tuesday.

The labor committee adopted amendments designed to "safeguard collective bargaining" and lessen powers of the administrative board.

The word "dime" used by Americans in speaking of a 10-cent piece is derived from the Latin word "decima," meaning a tenth.

It has been estimated that the population of the United States will reach 150,000,000 by 1960.

Slightly improved, a fact his many Nelson friends are pleased to learn.

Mrs. May Miller and Miller Reed of Dixon spent Sunday evening at the Oscar Sadler home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ortgiesen visited friends in Chicago Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Ortgiesen left this morning for Chicago to spend the day.

Henry Duffy was a Dixon business caller Wednesday afternoon.

Conscience Gives Woman, Married 4 Times, Some Bothers

St. Louis, Aug. 5—(AP)—Authorities awaited confirmation today of four marriages with only one divorce they said Mrs. Mildred Anderson Evans Gray, 23, claimed.

Lieut. John King of the St. Louis police said the woman told a patrolman "my conscience bothers me" and then listed these marriages:

No. 1 to James Anderson in Waukegan, Ill., Jan. 5, 1928.

No. 2 to Walter Anderson (not a relative of James Anderson) in Evansville, Ind., June 29, 1930.

No. 3 to Cliff Evans in Springfield, Ill., June 20, 1936.

No. 4 to Leon Gray at Marshall, Ill., June 20, 1937.

Lieut. King said she claimed she had been divorced from James Anderson before the three subsequent marriages.

Senator Lewis Not Acquainted With Miss Agnes Driel

Washington, Aug. 5—(AP)—Nomination of Agnes Van Driel as chief of the social security board's division of technical training was back before the appropriations committee today because Senator Lewis (D-Ill.) did not "have the honor of the lady's acquaintance."

Lewis said he was unable to determine whether she was from Illinois as stated when President Roosevelt sent the nomination to the senate. The upper chamber complied with the senator's request to return the nomination to committee.

Lewis said he and Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) joined in asking the committee to inquire "how the appointment happened to be made," adding he learned one of the board's department heads "knew her at one time or other," and that she now was in Europe.

Detroit Plymouth Plant Closed Today

Detroit, Aug. 5—(AP)—The Chrysler Corporation's Plymouth plant remained closed today pending settlement of differences which led to fighting between rival unions yesterday in which 10 men were injured and a riot call for police.

Only a few men appeared for work this morning. The gates were not opened and from a United Automobile Workers sound truck, circling the plant, came instructions for the men to return to their homes.

Conferees between representatives of the U. A. W. and the management, which adjourned at 9 o'clock last night, were resumed today.

TWO WARRANTS ISSUED
Boston, Aug. 5—(AP)—Municipal Court Judge Charles L. Carr issued warrants today charging Mrs. Leslie D. Hawkrig, president of the "Birth Control League of Massachusetts," and Caroline Davis with "illegally advertising contraceptives." Warrants sought against four others were refused.

FORMER JUDGE H. L. HEER ENTERS JUDICIAL RACE

Galena Man Republican Candidate for Judicial Vacancy

Following the announcement yesterday from Springfield that Gov. Henry Horner had called a special election for Dec. 7 to elect a Circuit Judge in the Fifteenth judicial district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge-elect William J. Emerson of Oregon a short time after his election, Harry L. Heer of Galena announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination. Heer, a former judge of the circuit, withdrew from the last election in favor of Emerson, because the latter was his senior in point of service.

Emerson was elected to replace Frank T. Sheehan, of Galena, last November but died before assuming his duties on the bench. Judge Sheehan's death occurred about a year ago. Heer expressed confidence yesterday that he would win the Republican nomination for the judgeship.

Other Possibilities
It is also understood that Charles E. Stuart, Mt. Carroll, former master in chancery of Carroll county, will be a candidate on the Republican ticket. There was also a rumor that Former Circuit Judge Franklin J. Stransky, who now has offices in Chicago and Savannah, might be a candidate although this rumor was not verified.

Among the Democrats it is rumored that A. H. Hannekan, Dixon, now engaged as official court reporter for Judge A. H. Manus, Freeport, may be a candidate while Attorney Louis Nack, Galena, is also being mentioned.

Said He Would Return Earhart; Held as Extortionist

New York, Aug. 4—(AP)—A 52-year-old seaman, arrested after allegedly obtaining $1,000 from George Palmer Putnam, the publisher on a promise to return safely his missing wife, the flir, Amelia Earhart Putnam, is being held on an extortion charge by the department of justice.

Rhea Whitley, agent in charge of the office of the federal-bureau of investigation here, said the man was Wilbur Rothar, born on City Island, now living in the Bronx, with his wife and eight children. He was arrested after he left Putnam's office, ostensibly to collect another $1,000 for his information.

Whitley said Putnam was suspicious of the man from the start and became even more suspicious when Rothar produced a scarf he said Miss Earhart had in her possession when he and shipmates of a vessel out of New Guinea, "rescued" her in the South Pacific.

Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, vanished last month in the South Seas while on a round-the-world flight.

Zionists Consider British Plans to Divide Palestine

Zurich, Switzerland, Aug. 5—(AP)—The Zionist world congress split today over a motion that would authorize the incoming Zionist executives to negotiate with the British government on the proposed Palestine partition.

The motion, drawn up by President Chaim Weizmann yesterday afternoon, led to group debates that lasted until early today when an informal poll of the delegates indicated a slight majority in favor of the measure.

Later, by a vote of 285 to 115, the congress voted to continue the debate in executive session.

Weizmann had urged Zionists interested in the development of Palestine as a Jewish national home to consider the British Royal Commission's plan for division of the Holy Land into sovereign Jewish and Arab states—even though "the proposal as it now stands is not acceptable."

Charges Against Bus Driver Were Unsubstantiated

An eastbound NorthWestern bus, with 39 or more passengers, was delayed for nearly an hour Tuesday morning because three Joliet people charged that the bus forced their car off the road and into the ditch about three and one-half miles east of Rochelle, on the Lincoln highway.

Mrs. Vernito Guilekson, 18, and her mother, Mrs. James Keeler, 42, both of Joliet are in the Lincoln hospital at Rochelle with broken collar bones.

Joseph Estje, Chicago, driver of the bus, denied that his bus forced a car off the pavement. Practically all of his passengers also denied that any car had been forced off the pavement. Officer J. N. Jacobson of the Rochelle police department investigated the accident. He said he could find no evidence that the car had been forced off the highway.

The car, driven by Mrs. Keeler, rolled over twice after it left the pavement, Clyde Tanner, 14, Columbus, O., also an occupant of the car, escaped with bruises. They were enroute to Davis Junction.

Quincy Taxi Driver Prepared for Record Trip to East Coast

Quincy, Ill., Aug. 5—(AP)—George Siefers, who operates a taxi line, made sure the meter on his best cab was in good working order today, for on August 12 he will start an 1,800-mile trip to Atlantic City, N. J., and return.

The fare will be Mrs. Edith Royalty of nearby Pittsfield, who hired the taxi because she wants to have a car available for sightseeing when she reaches the coast. She said she wanted to meet her son, Boyce, a U. S. Naval Academy student, who will be on furlough.

Mrs. Royalty told Siefers she and her son would want to drive to Dayton, O., for a visit with relatives, and make other side trips before returning home.

U. S. Sportsmen Plan to Restore Ducks in Canada

Hartford — Nationally known business and professional men and sportsmen have been selected to head Ducks Unlimited, Inc., the first international membership corporation ever formed to preserve one of the country's greatest field sports, according to the More Game Birds Foundation, sponsor of the movement.

With organization committees of representative wildfowlers already functioning in over two score states, Ducks Unlimited plans to boost annual wild duck crops through establishment and management of over a million acres of duck-breeding refuges in the last remaining most important nesting grounds in Canada.

The program, to be financed by voluntary contributions from the country's half million duck hunters, will center in the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Here, in a limited area, nest the bulk of wild ducks hunted throughout the United States.

The national officers of Ducks Unlimited, elected by the Board of Trustees, are: President, Dr. John A. Hartwell, President of the New York Academy of Medicine and former head of the American Wild Fowlers, John C. Huntington, President of the More Game Birds Foundation, is Vice-President.

Secretary of Ducks Unlimited is E. Herrick Low, Vice-President of the Corn Exchange Bank Trust Co., of New York City. Frederick H. Ecker, Chairman of the Board, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., is Treasurer.

National headquarters of the organization have been established at 500 Fifth Avenue, New York.

"Until steps are taken to preserve the most productive portions of the Canadian area and until the ravages of drought and agricultural development are repaired in this great duck factory, the sport of duck hunting in the United States hangs in precarious balance," the Foundation declares.

"All the restrictions on hunting that may be enacted in this country cannot restore a single Canadian duck-nesting marsh. And, once the breeding grounds of any species are destroyed, the death knell of that species is sounded," the Foundation warns in urging the support of duck hunters for the program.

Frank Shields Will Meet Young Contender at Meadow Club

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 5—(AP)—Frank Shields, the tennis player turned movie star or vice versa, plays his quarter final round match in the Meadow Club's invitation tourney today against young Hal Surface, of Kansas City, Mo., a player who was starting when Shields was a Davis Cup star.

In the other quarter-final round pairings, Jiro Yamagishi, of Japan's Davis Cup squad, meets Gil Hunt, the youthful Washington ace; Bobby Riggs, first seeded American player, plays Sidney Wood, of New York, and Gil Hall, of East Orange, N. J., encounters Arthur Hendrix, of Lakeland, Fla.

Wood and Shields paired in the tourney's biggest doubles upset yesterday, when they trimmed Ramsey Potts, of Memphis, Tenn., and Ernie Sutter, of New Orleans the third ranking pair, 5-7, 7-5, 6-4. In another upset Greg Mangin, New York, and Frank D. Guernsey, Jr., of Orlando, Fla., seeded fourth, lost to Al Jarvis, Tenafly, N. J., and Gardner Mulloy, Miami, Fla., 6-4, 6-2.

Other winning doubles teams who played in the quarter-finals of the doubles were John McDiarmid, Princeton, N. J., and Hendrix, and Yamagishi and Fumiteru Nakasama.

Confessed Slayer of Three is Given Life at Hard Work

Sillwater, Minn., Aug. 5—(AP)—Jens Thompson, 34, who pleaded guilty yesterday to a first degree murder charge in connection with the slaying of three of his farmer neighbors near Austin, Minn., started a life prison term in state's prison here today after one of the state's most speedy prosecutions.

Less than 24 hours after bloodhounds hunted him out of his hiding place in a deep gulch near Houston Tuesday, District Judge N. E. Peterson of Albert Lea pronounced life sentence at hard labor for the bachelor-farmer.

Trucks Again Move in Philadelphia, Pa.

Philadelphia, Aug. 5—(AP)—Trucks began to move normally throughout Philadelphia today.

A flare-up last night a few hours after the city-wide strike had been announced as ended, except in the case of companies under contract to haul goods for the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, subsided and everywhere business houses replenished their supplies.

Mayor S. Davis Wilson, who proclaimed a "state of emergency" yesterday, said the proclamation would remain in effect until he was reasonably certain all danger of further violence had passed.

Sixty-two men were arrested in the disorder during the night. Eleven were discharged by Mayor Wilson, who sat as a magistrate in city hall. The others were held in $10,000 bail each, for a further hearing on charges ranging from riot to disorderly conduct and suspicion. They were sent to the county prison in default of bail.

"I'VE ROLLED THIS CRATE 230 MILES TODAY... AND I'VE EARNED A THIRST FOR SOME REAL BEER-DRINKER'S BEER!"

"I'll say I've earned it! I've been hittin' the concrete and dodgin' the trailers—and, believe me, the old throat is as hot as that radiator. But am I goin' to cool it!"

"Here's the beer that touches the spot, all the way down. Patrick Henry! That's what I call a real beer-drinker's beer. It's the ale base makes the difference, I guess. Sort of smooths it out and mellows it off. Yep, Patrick Henry sure goes good—when you've got a thirst that you've earned."

We'll say it does, Mister. After real work, go for Patrick Henry. Take some home tonight. Stop by your favorite place—they'll have 12-oz. steinies or regular tall bottles; and 32-oz. "whoopers."

'DUICH' MAKES PART OF FIRST PICTURE TWICE

Bosses Changed Their Minds He Writes to Iowa Paper

Continuing his own story of life as a movie actor, Ronald (Dutch) Reagan, former Dixon boy, wrote the following to the Des Moines Register for publication last Sunday:

By RONALD (DUTCH) REAGAN
Hollywood, Cal.—There's nothing like a good word from home to cheer a fellow up when he's beginning to wonder if it's worth while to give up all his friends and start fresh in a field entirely different from anything he has ever known.

So you may imagine how elated and happy I am to have a whole bundle of mail from friends and well wishers, especially from Iowa. They came along just at a time I was feeling a bit low, having finished my first picture, "Love Is On the Air," for Warner Bros. and was trying vainly to peer into the future and see what it held in store.

The picture, by the way, no longer is "Inside Story," but has a brand new title which the studio chiefs think—and I do, too—is much better. It is "Love Is On the Air," which has a swing and a lift the other title lacked.

I've seen a lot of the rushes, and piece-meal they look pretty good, even to me who, not so many weeks ago, thought a "rush" had something to do with a college fraternity or trying to get aboard an L. train in Chicago, Ill., during the busy hours.

Lasting Thrill

I guess nearly everyone who is in pictures or is permitted to spout over the radio has a few fans—otherwise they wouldn't be there. But I don't think I'll ever get over the thrill of hearing from people I've never seen, praising my work and wishing me well.

Most of my "fan" mail so far of course, is from people who heard my sports broadcast over radio station WHO in Des Moines and for some reason or other decided I might do. I have several notes, however, from New York, N. Y., Milwaukee, Wis., San Diego, Cal., and places like that from people who have read some blurb the publicity department has sent out about me.

If, when my pictures are shown on the screen, people really do like me I can see already that I'm apt to get writer's cramp. Errol Flynn, Kay Francis, Dick Powell, Joan Blondell and big shots like that get thousands of letters a week, and it's a problem for them to handle.

Pat O'Brien, while he also gets a wagon load of letters every day, tells me he reads every one and answers those that call for an answer.

Orders Pictures

Most letters ask for pictures and just as soon as I can get squared away I'm having some especially made to take care of these friends. If those who have asked for them will just bear in mind that it takes a little time for a newcomer to get his feet on the ground out here, I know they'll forgive me if I don't reply by return mail.

But enough about my mail and let's get along with my screen career.

After my studio tour, which I told you about last week, Eddie Selzer, the publicity director, collared me and told me portraits were needed to help sell "Love Is On the Air." Your know, pictures have to be sold, and the only samples the salesmen have are the "stills" from the production and portraits they make in the gallery.

Manly and Virile

So we have to look as manly and virile and romantic as possible in order to coax people into the theater to see us.

Anyway, I arrived at the "portrait gallery" the next morning and found it quite a place. It has all the trimmings except a "birdie" to look at, and enough lights to make you think you are in a Turkish bath.

I found June Travis there ahead of me, perched on a stool drinking a bottle of soda pop and dressed in cool looking slacks. Over the slacks she was wearing a smart wrap and a classy looking hat. This seemed to be slightly screwy somehow, until she explained she was making fashion pictures and that the slacks wouldn't show.

After half a dozen changes of costume, the photographer went to work on me. I assumed that angle and this one while the bulb pressed tried to get some art into my not too classic profile.

Classy "Necking"

June and I did some high class "necking" portraits, too, that is "climbi" stuff which is supposed to make the hearts of the young beat a bit faster when they see them.

That would have been fun if it hadn't been so terribly hot, and I was glad when noon came and I was supposedly free to go horse-back riding—with a photographer. However, they changed my mind for me again, and instead of riding we wound up at a place called Pops Willow Lake.

Which certainly is an overstatement. The "willows" are imported palm trees and as for the "lake"—well, where I come from they call puddles like that ponds and put a diving board in the deep end after they've chased the ducks away.

However, they call it a lake out here and have equipped it with everything but a dock for the steamship Queen Mary. They'd probably put that in if they figured it out. ... fjk!-e shrd m mme ured how the big liner could get over the mountain.

Swimming Hole

To tell the truth, though, it is a nice little swimming hole and after the terrific heat of San Fernando valley it was a real treat. It's true what they say about sleeping under blankets, and stuff like that out here, but it doesn't apply to the Valley which is hemmed in by mountains and foothills which keep out any vestige of a cool ocean breeze.

We got back to the studio about six o'clock and things were looking up. I was actually set for a several days layoff and I had just the spot picked for it. But just as I drove through the gates, homeward bound, a studio cop flagged me down.

Due at 8 A. M.

"You're due in at 8 A. M. tomorrow for added scenes on your picture," he told me.

Which introduced me to a delightful Hollywood custom. After a picture is finished and roughly cut, and edited, the big bosses take a look at it and start to add little fine touches.

"I think it could be improved with a new scene here," one of them says. "Why wouldn't it be stronger to have Reagan do this instead of that?" suggests another.

These things are talked over, writers are called in and new scenes written. The idea, of course, is sound. You never can absolutely visualize a picture story until you see it completed. Then begins the work of tightening it up, eliminating here, adding there, and by the time they're through, they've really got something that moves and entertains.

Trip to Japan

Nick Grinde, our director, had already started on his vacation to Japan and if they hadn't caught me when they did, I'd probably have been farther away than that. Our new director, Noel Smith, was well. The costume plot had to be rechecked a dozen times by stills and strips of film taken of previous scenes. Otherwise, we'd likely be seen entering a door in a blue suit and coming out in a grey one the next minute.

Then, too, there were new scenes that didn't fall into any of the immediately previous sequences, and for these different costumes were needed. That meant a job of collecting ties, shirts, handkerchiefs, etc., so every detail would match with the scenes taken a month ago.

Some of the added scenes were only one line, yet they required the complete re-dressing of a set—lights and equipment moved in, which meant hours of work for only a flash or two on the screen. But that's how meticulous they are, and if anyone tells you the major studios just slap pictures together in a haphazard fashion you tell him for me he's crazy.

Costume Changes

During my first day's work on these additional scenes I made seven costume changes. Don't get me wrong, I don't mean seven different changes as I haven't that big a wardrobe yet. We'd shoot a series of "takes" in one set where I might wear a brown, blue and grey suit in that order, then move to another set where I'd have to climb in the brown and start all over through the costume changing routine.

I felt like the time I had my first pair of long pants bought for me and I tried on about every suit in the store.

My biggest surprise was in remaking the very first scene of the picture which I had put down in my memory as sort of a landmark. The producers had found they needed George E. Stone for another picture and a new player, Grant McKenzie was substituted. That meant going all the way through, too, and making over the few scenes Stone had been in.

Spoiled Brats?

One of our new scenes placed me in a broadcasting studio with two children. I was curious about "baby" actors, having always wondered if they were spoiled little brats or real kids.

The little girl in the picture, a lot as cute and not much bigger than a doll, was playing in her fiftieth picture. She was completely unspoiled, and quite mature, too. I couldn't talk to her as would ordinarily talk to a child—not that I'm given to baby talk. But she had an adult point of view in talking with grownups.

But these kids present a strange paradox. One minute I was talking with her as a fellow actor and the next she and a little boy were playing with a toy wagon and having as much fun as any two children anywhere.

An Hour Off

I grabbed an hour off to visit the cutting rooms which I've heard about ever since I hit Hollywood. I tracked down Doug Gould, who is doing the cutting and editing job, and "Love Is On the Air," and found him in a small room, completely surrounded by film—little rolls of it, hundreds of them, arranged on shelves where he can pick up the scene he needs on a moment's notice.

How any actor can get high-hat after visiting the cutting department is beyond me. Those guys have more work to do and use for brains in five minutes than an actor has in a week.

Doug was in front of a Moviola, peering into the lens on the machine, watching the film, while a loudspeaker poured out the dialogue from a separate track. Suddenly he snapped the machine open, slashed a red pencil across the picture and

NAMED DIRECTORS

St. Louis, Mo.—(AP)—Three Illinois merchants were named today to the new board of directors of the American Retailers' Association at its convention here. They were U. S. Kincaid, Louisville, Ill.; M. J. Pletz, Peoria, Ill.; and Leo Wellbacher, Columbia, Ill.

sound track, and ran some more of the conglomeration of scenes.

"I'll Take Acting"
While I was there I saw him snip one word out of the sound track and "dub" it into another scene, and that's all in the day's work for him. Cutters have been known to put an S on the end of a word, I think I'll stick to acting—if they'll let me.

That's how I spent my vacation, working, but here I am again—the picture is apparently all washed up and I'm headed, I hope, for a few days off. But I'm not through the gate yet, as they say out here, and anything can happen. We'll see.

Biggest Radio Station

The job Charley is taking—at least from the viewpoint of the Crosley Radio corporation—is for only one purpose: to continue its license to operate its 500,000-watt radio station, WLW at Cincinnati, the most powerful station in the world.

Other stations are limited to 50,000 watts, at the maximum, and the North American radio conference convening November 8 is expected to move toward the elimination of all large stations which tend to blanket the country.

Crosley's license is subject to cancellation every six months, in fact was just renewed on the day Michaelson's employment was announced—although it seems likely he had nothing to do with it.

Previously, the late Anning Prall, chairman of the federal communications commission, was considered friendly to WLW, but with his death, Commissioner George Payne is reported to be preparing a drive to reduce the Crosley station's tremendous wattage to that of its competitors—another reason why Crosley hired Michaelson.

Merry-Go-Round

Samuel Insull, one-time utility czar, can be seen daily in London in the best of health and good spirits, at the Reform club, a well-known Pall Mall club, according to a government official just returned from England. British born, Insull has extensive property holdings in London.

Under an act just passed by Congress, congressional secretaries and clerks, after years of campaigning, have been included in the government's retirement system. Participation is voluntary; also, the law differentiates between House and Senate employees. The latter can join only after 15 years of service; House employees can join at any time.

Senator "Cotton" Ed Smith defending his devotion to the interest of the farmer: "I think I can say without any immodesty that I have at heart the welfare of the farmers of which I am one of whom." ... Senator Lynn Frazier, N. D. Republican, has received some caustic letters in response to an article he sent out under his frank praising Senator Burt Wheeler's stand against the court plan. One farmer wrote, "Haven't you got anything better to do than waste the government's money?" ... When Secretary Henry Morgenthau returns from his Honolulu vacation he will find his private office completely renovated. Workmen moved in the day after he left. The offices have not been refurbished since Andrew Mellon's time.

'Go Back to Sleep'

St. Louis, Aug. 5—(AP)—Someone banged a telephone coin box angrily on the sidewalk.

"What are you doing?" Mrs. Pearl Powell asked from her window after the noise awakened her.

"Oh, go back to sleep," the apparent thief snapped, and went on with his pounding. He finished his crackman job and fled before police called by Mrs. Powell arrived.

Grant Burman of Polo Wins Prize

Grant B. Burman of Polo was awarded a prize of $100 for his report submitted in the "service survey" conducted by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana to determine what services rendered the motoring public by gasoline stations are most desired, and why, it was announced by the company today.

E. W. Tyne, a Standard Oil dealer of Polo, received an equal award for assisting Burman in making his survey, it also was announced.

The awards were made by a committee of judges composed of Prof. Lloyd D. Herrold, Northwestern University; George W. Barton, Safety Director, Chicago Motor Club; and Robert B. Stafford, Managing Editor, "Super Service Station Magazine," Chicago.

During the survey, which was carried on for a period of six weeks, thousands of reports were turned in by motorists in thirteen central western states. Of the 122 car drivers who were awarded prizes, the majority stated that cleaning the windshield by the gasoline dealer was the most important service for the safety, comfort and convenience of the motorists, while next in importance was having the tires inflated and the oil in the crank case checked.

Jack Marr of Oak Park is spending a few days in the Soeliner home.

Several families from Kokomo, Ind., are camping at Question Mark park here this week.

Kankakee, Ill., Aug. 5—(AP)—The nude statuette George Gray Barnard donated to the Kankakee school board posed another problem today—this one involving money.

The board announced that Pietro Ghilioni New York sculptor sent here by Barnard to dress the male nudes in plaster pants, had returned to the east. In the last month Ghilioni draped a dozen statues with available school funds were exhausted and work on the remainder of the 50 pieces had to stop, the announcement said.

Art lovers talked of a civic drive to complete the project so that the statuette, valued at $100,000, can be installed in the Central school, of which Barnard is an alumnus.

Corn worm damage
Jerseyville, Ill.—(AP)—Farm bureau offices here said today corn root worm damage threatens to become extensive if farmers do not use every effort to curb the pests.

Plants of three different species are worn as "shamrock" on St. Patrick's Day.

ANOTHER 'LOVE FEAST' PLANNED BY DEMOCRATS

Washington, Aug. 5—(AP)—Democratic Senators will get together next week around a banquet table in an informal attempt to restore party harmony, shattered by the court re-organization dispute and the wage-hour bill.

They invited President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner to be their guests at a stag dinner. It was arranged by a committee representing both sides in the recent court fight.

Senators, describing the party as spontaneous, said they hoped the President could attend and would speak. He is expected to reply to the invitation in a day or two.

Garner, who was active in bringing about the truce that resulted in shelving the court bill, was chosen to preside. The only Democrat not invited was Senator Hattie Caraway of Arkansas.

"I never yet have gone to a stag party," she commented.

Senator McKellar of Tennessee is chairman of the affair and Senator Lee of Oklahoma is secretary. Other committee members are Moore of New Jersey, Truman of Missouri, and Burke of Nebraska, a leader of the court bill foes.

The dinner, outwardly a tribute to the new majority leader, Senator Barkley of Kentucky, is the second "love feast" of congressional Democrats this summer.

All Democrats in the Senate and House were invited late in June to a series of picnics on Jefferson Island in Chesapeake Bay.

The earth wobbles on its axis, because it is not a perfect sphere.

VETO OF SUGAR CONTROL ACT IS LATEST THREAT

BULLETIN

Washington, Aug. 5—(AP)—Congressional sugar bloc leaders agreed at a caucus today to stand pat on a sugar control bill President Roosevelt notified house leaders he would veto.

Representative Coffee (D-Neb.), spokesman for the meeting, said approximately 50 representatives and senators from sugar producing and refining states were "unanimous" in their decision to go ahead with the legislation.

Washington, Aug. 5—(AP)—Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the house agriculture committee said today President Roosevelt had informed him he would veto the pending sugar control bill if it reaches him in its present form.

The Texan said the chief executive had told him he could not approve the bill if it were passed with a provision limiting refined sugar imports from Hawaii and Puerto Rico. The house opens debate on the measure today.

This provision has been a subject of controversy for weeks between the congressional sugar bloc and the administration.

Shortly after Jones passed the word along, sugar bloc leaders hastily summoned their group together to discuss the situation.

He said the president told him he felt that inasmuch as the islands were under the American flag they should not be restricted on refining their sugar.

It was understood the sugar bloc would discuss a proposal to accept the Jones amendment.

Hemingway Herd Leads in Ogle For 7th Month

The fine herd of 8 P. B. H. cows owned by J. W. Hemingway, Oregon, continued to pace the Ogle County D. H. I. A. for the seventh consecutive month as they produced an average of 966 pounds
of milk and 33.11 pounds of fat.
This is a record that in all probability will stand a long time. Forrest Gillespie, Oregon, was the owner of the second highest producing herd as his 11 P. B. H.
cows produced an average of 875
pounds of milk and 32.43 pounds
of fat. One cow was dry. Lee M.
Gentry's herd of 33 P. B. H. cows was third having a production average of 876 pounds of milk and 31.38 pounds of fat. Four of the 33 cows were dry. Herbert Coffman, Polo, owned the fourth highest ranking herd as his 23 G. H. averaged 785 pounds of milk and 28.35 pounds of fat. Ralph R. Thomas, Mt. Morris, had the fifth highest producing herd as his herd of 13 P. B. and G. H. cows produced an average of 832 pounds
of milk and 28.00 pounds of fat.
Two of the 13 cows on test were dry.

The highest producing cow was a P. B. H. cow owned by Lee M.
Gentry, Oregon, who had a production record for the month of 1845 pounds of milk and 81.2 pounds of fat. The second highest producing cow, also a registered Holstein, was owned by John T. Cunningham, Polo, with a production record of 1581 pounds of milk of 66.4
pounds of fat.

The association average for the month was 668 pounds of milk 24.1 pounds of fat with 268 cows on test. Twenty-three of the 268 cows on test were dry. During the month 30 unprofitable cows were shipped for beef. Twenty-six cows each produced over 40 pounds of fat.

Pastures are beginning to dry up and production will fall rapidly unless the cows receive additional feed and care. The herds that held up best in production during the past month were on Sudan grass pasture. A balanced grain ration, plenty of fresh water, and adequate fly protection will prove to be profitable factors in the care of the dairy herd and should result in more efficient production for the balance of the summer, according to Carl Lund, the tester.

Many Dry Spots in Nation Crop Survey

Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Numerous dry spots appeared today in a nation wide survey of crop conditions by the weather bureau.
"There is now a general need of moisture in many places between the Appalachian mountains on the east and the Rockies on the west," the bureau said after reporting "development of drouthy conditions over considerable areas."

Reports from major farm areas
"ideal for most farm operations, especially harvesting of winter said July weather this year was grains."

Recent weeks have speeded harvesting of wheat and other grains, the bureau said, with corn and cotton crops making satisfactory progress.

Best-Dressed Woman

BY HELEN WELSHIMER

COPYRIGHT, 1937, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JUDITH IRVING, heroine,
America's best dressed woman.
PHIL IRVING, Judith's extraneous husband.
MARTA ROGERS, Judith's rival.
BRUCE KNIGHT, author, Judit's old classmate.
MILICENT BAYNE, Bruce's protector.

Yesterday, Judith prepared to leave for Reno. She has a parting tea with Phil and Marta. She wonders if Phil will stay for one last moment alone with her or see Marta home.

CHAPTER VII

PHIL did not stay long to talk with Judith. He excused himself from the golden-haired Marta for a moment to follow Judith back to her own room. His eyes were troubled and his brow furrowed.

"Judith, I'm sorry about last night. I was a beast. Could you manage to forgive me?"

She nodded. "Long ago, I understood."

He looked at her for an instant before he said: "How can you be so understanding?" Then his tone changed brusquely. "I'll be back long before time to drive you to Newport. Wait for me, won't you, Judith? I can't send you off alone." He paused and his eyes were saying, "How can I send you off at all?"

She dressed with consummate care in a redingote of blue tweed, whose dress was black with buttons of matching blue. A careless hat that served deeply over one cheek held the same rich shade of the blue. Accessories were black.
It was 8:30 now. She ordered some dinner sent up from the restaurant in the apartment building.

Nine o'clock . . . 9:30 . . . 10
. . . She couldn't wait much longer. She walked to the windows and looked down on the river that carried barge lights on its bosom as it slowly meandered down to the sea. Now rain began, steady and rhythmic. A quarter after 10. . . Still Phil had sent no word.

SUDDENLY she was filled with a disappointment so keen that it rent her spirit into something tattered and quivering. The brave independence was gone. It was almost time to go away now, to go away forever, and Phil had not come. She pressed her hands over her lips to hold back the sobs.

At last she rang for the car.
Judith had told Millicent that she would pick her up at her home in Gramercy Park. When the girl came out to the cab Judith noticed the glad exuberance in her eyes. She was responding swiftly to new stimuli. There was much difference between the end of the 'twenties, the older woman thought.

"The cars were all taken," Judith explained. "Do you mind a taxicab?"

"Not one bit, but Ronnie is here with his car so he will drive us over to Newark. You know him, don't you? He's the youngest part of the copper fortune and a darling. He'll take us. He'd love to."

THE bags were transferred to Ronnie's car, Judith took her place on the soft-cushioned seat and relaxed. Ronnie was tall and broad-shouldered and tanned. He was cut from the same college pattern that the eastern schools modeled best. Plainly he was in love with Millicent, who teased him a little, laughed with him, forgot him.

Now the car was passing through the gates at the Newark airport and beyond, the great ship, with its cabins lighted, waited. People were saying goodbye. There was a prevailing air of gaiety. She glanced up. There were no stars tonight. There would be more rain.

She was hoping that there would be a message for her from Phil at the airport. There was none, however.

"We're taking off, Mrs. Irving," the junior pilot told her at last.

"Thank you," she remembered to smile.

Then—an attendant came running. "Mrs. Irving! Mrs. Irving!"
he called.

"Yes, here I am!" Even to her own ears her voice was shot with glimmers of wild, glad color.
Phil had not forgotten!

SHE accepted the message and held the yellow envelope carefully as the ship glided down the apron and took off. Up, up, up. It had cleared the lower buildings.
It was taking on ceiling.

Quickly she opened the telegram. When she saw the well-loved signature her heart became quieter. She read: "Darling, I don't know how I missed you stop forgive me stop you are a jewel stop phil."

She did not know what she had expected that note to say. After all, there was little that it could say. She felt let down and tired.
She would go to bed. She put on her rust satin traveling pajamas, and stretched herself on the cushions, thankful that this ship had sleeping compartments.
Judith slept, and when the stewardess called her half an hour from Chicago, at 5 o'clock, she arose quickly, dressed and evaded newspaper contacts at the airport.

Word that she was aboard had spread. The plane to the west did not leave until 12 o'clock so she and Millicent had a leisurely breakfast of orange juice, corn muffins with marmalade, crisp bacon and coffee. They were tired of waiting long before noon, and relieved to be in the air again.

The ship climbed higher and higher, through blue sky and sunlight, while small towns and rivers became part of a miniature world far below. Tea was served.
Dinner. Night began. The plane was due in Reno at 10:37.

THE sky had grown rougher as twilight came and they neared the Rockies. Judith felt the upward motion, sensed the ship being caught in a gigantic wind, shaken like a leaf, and set back again. Her spirit rejoiced in the struggle.

Higher, higher, higher. Now there was a roaring sound that was new and frightening as they dipped too suddenly, dropped, regained their place. There was another plunge. A plunge so long and so steep that her heart waited for a crash. It did not come. The ship continued on its way. The stewardess's face was white now, Judith noted. The sky was black and sleet was now driving against the windows. Strange, but Judith no longer felt excited.

Suddenly there was an order to fasten safety belts. It appeared in the small red electric panel of words that broke the blackness of the cabin. All lights had been extinguished because it was easier to see outside when the ship was in darkness. The way grew constantly rougher.

Flash, came the next electric warning. "Prepare to land."

Now the wind roared by like a giant loosed among the clouds.
Prepare to land! That could mean one thing only. The ship could not weather the storm. Here in the mountains the chance that there would be an acceptable landing place was almost nothing.
No pilot would come down if he had a chance in the air.

So this was the end. The end of love, of life, of dreams—of fittings! Judith smiled in the frightening dark. She would never again see Phil. Phil who had loved her and forgotten about her.

Now the sky was dropping away rapidly. Her hands clutched the sides of the chair. She tried to call a word of cheer to Millicent and wondered why she had forgotten her for a brief period.
In another moment, now—

Corn Is Dangerous

Clinton, Ia., Aug. 5—(AP)—Clinton county corn has reached such a height that Sheriff C. S. Petersen broadcast a warning to all country drivers to proceed with "extreme caution."

Intersections of country roads and lanes are the most hazardous traffic zones in the country and the corn is growing taller every day, completely obstructing vision, the sheriff said.

FOR SENATORSHIP

Chicago—(AP)—Stephen A. Day, a Chicago lawyer, announced he will be a candidate in the spring primary for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator. Day, who served as private secretary to Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller of the U. S. Supreme Court for several years, was an unsuccessful candidate in 1932 for congressman-at-large.

QUEST A FAILURE

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 5—(AP)—Entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture packed up their 400 beetle traps today and prepared to depart after failing in five weeks, to capture a single Japanese beetle in gardens and lawns here. The Federal department is surveying the extent of the invasion of the destructive insects in Illinois.

Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—Some pictures would be funnier if they shot the rehearsals instead of the scenes.

"Nothing Sacred" is a comedy, and funny enough, but I still wish they would film the rehearsals. Any Carol Lombard set is a comedy. So is any set presided over by Director William (Wild Bill) Wellman. And Frederic March is no slouch at patter, either.

Today's scene has March and Lombard seated in a sailing yacht in the studio tank. Your Mr. March is having dial trouble, not exactly his fault. He's supposed to tell Carol to do something to the sails, and these nautical terms get him tangled. He's tangled in the halcyons, verbally, and the boom and the jibs keep thwacking his memory and leaving a blank. He speaks of luffing to leeward, and then has to speak of love, and soon nobody knows whether he is luffing or loving but it doesn't matter because it is lunch-time anyway. But a good time has been had by all, especially by Lombard, Wellman and the spectators.

"Convolutional Atrophy"

On "Wife, Doctor and Nurse", Dr. Warner Baxter is reading a case report: "... then there's a slight separation of the sutures lines—a convolutional atrophy..."

Time and again Dr. Baxter's tongue gets twisted on that "convolutional atrophy." Finally they rearrange the dialogue to give those words to Virginia Bruce. So they shoot the scene and suddenly, slick as oil, out come the words from Baxter's lips. But they don't belong to him any more and the scene must be done again.

On "The Perfect Specimen," Joan Blondell knows her name is Mona Carter but circumstances conspire to keep the fact from film.

Harry Harrington and Frank Mayo knock and come in. Harry asks: "Is your name Mona Carter?" Then Mayo says: "We're from the department of justice. The chief wants to see you."

"Is your name Mona Carter?" has been rehearsed 19 times, with bangles, before Director Mike Curtiz is ready to take it. Joan, frightened, has admitted her identity 19 times. Everybody on the set knows all the lines by this time and is convinced that Joan Blondell is Mona Carter. So they're taking it—as far as Mayo's line, which comes out: "We're from the department of justice."

He stops, they start over. This is Harrington's turn. "Is your name Name Carter?" he demands. Joan is about to say it is, when Curtiz interrupts sternly. "No, no, no," he moans. "That's not the line. What was the line?"

A dozen voices cry: "Is your name Mona Carter?"

"All right," says Curtiz, "now everybody remember his lines just once please, and we go to lunch. I promise."

This is the zero hour. We creep toward an exit. The question follows us: "Is your name Mona Carter?"

"No!" says Joan wearily. "I'm Santa Claus! Mona just went out."

Producer's tribute to Jack Oakie: "He wastes $60,000 worth of talent—on the sidelines—in every picture. ... Same can be said for the Marx brothers, Robert Benchley, and other inveterate or incipient gag-men. ..."

WPA Worker Meets

Death in a Blast

Chicago, Aug. 4—(AP)—A man identified by county highway police as Tony Sbaaba, 45, a WPA worker, was killed today and four others were seriously injured in a tunnel explosion in suburban Des Plaines.

The blast occurred in a section where workmen were installing a sewer extension. The highway police began an investigation of the cause.

Brain Twizzlers

By PROF. J. D. FLINT

Twizzler Basinski gives you a Twizzler about Little Willie today. That name reminds the "of Professor about a little poem which he learned in a high school chemistry class years ago.

"Little Willie was a soda clerk but a soda clerk he is no more 'cause what he thought was H2O was H2SO4."

Just skip by that — here's the Twizzler:

Little Willie had a savings bank which held nickels, dimes, and quarters. He didn't know exactly how many of each he had but he knew that he had $10.80 and there were five more nickels than dimes and twice as many quarters as nickels and dimes together. How many of each did he have?

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzler: Here is a way in which sixteen trees can be planted so that there are fifteen rows with four in each row.

Democratic National Committee Got It From Young Bob

Washington, Aug. 4—(AP)—Robert R. Young, who recently bought control of the vast Van Sweringen railway empire, told Senate investigators today and he contributed "out of my own personal funds."

The donation, he testified, had "no connection" with business he had pending before several Federal agencies.

He testified before the Senate railway committee that two solicitors for the Democratic National Committee had visited him at his New York apartment shortly after he purchased control of the railway network, and said they "wanted contributions from Alleghany and Chesapeake corporations," the system's chief holding companies.

Young declared, stressing his contention that he had in no way violated the corrupt practices act.

Under questioning by Chairman Wheeler (D-Mont.) he conceded that the time of the contributions might have been "unfortunate."

He described the donations after Wheeler had questioned him about the listing of Alleghany stock on the New York Stock Exchange. "You are a bigger sucker than I thought you were," the thin-lipped Montana Senator commented.

Young then testified that he had contributed to the Democratic party "many times before," and that the $15,000 was given "because the need was greatest just after the election, when the deficit needed clearing up."
